

PINK WOODEN BODIES:

- 1) NAU SAHYDE: Psychedelic laughter sitar sounding riffs with mellow vocals and a sitar sound, 2) weired echos and found voices rising above the mist, 3) Ringing vocals, banjoing an ancient mood, 4) indescribable song from the void, 5) Middle Eastern thunder drums gunning the peace, 6) Everybody's god dream story with marching orders, 7) a perilous Ken Clingerish story song strumming away reality from a fish bowl, 8) sound collages insanely melting the commercial interruptions away, but wait, there's more... 9) howling clacking groovy movie soundtracks as violins warn us of fairy tales, 10) The waves of time wash away the sorrow lulled by the rush of speed, 11) Hanging with Ruby on a Tuesday strumming the strolling notes, cool vocals and background sounds, 12) Puck Europe out of the 21st century into the unknown time, 13) madness taken to level three and the self talking of musicians trying to conquer the doubts of Alice in Wonderland.

Very diverse and imaginative
